The MIB: a unique program and experience

Created 10 years ago with and for companies, the MIB program is constantly adjusting to meet companies’ needs. Our achievement has been proven through our long-term corporate and academic partnerships, our alumni’s great careers and our high level in national rankings.

Our learning approach is based on interactive classes, case studies and team projects with both international professors and top-level executives. We look for students with high academic achievements, an open-minded, curious and committed personality and a willingness to embrace the MIB spirit.

Combining classes and an apprenticeship experience, the MIB program helps students learn and master the following skills:
- International management and cross-functional project abilities,
- General knowledge in new technologies & digital
- Critical thinking and business acumen.

We look forward to welcoming you on campus!

Testimonies

"After a Master of Science, entering the MIB was a great opportunity. The teaching style that allowed me to learn and develop communication skills and trained me on current problems found in all major international projects. The adventure went even further, since I had the chance to have an apprenticeship at Accenture, and to use the tools that gave me the MIB to move towards «High Performance». The MIB may have a motto: connecting people to change the world!"

Nicolas, Accenture, MIB5

"When I applied to the MIB, I was looking for a renowned Master’s degree where I could develop strong skills in PM and IT, work in an international atmosphere, and have a professional experience in consulting. Today, if I step back and look at what happened during this year, I realize that the MIB met my expectations by far, and even more than I expected. Indeed, I had many interesting and concrete classes, taught by very good professors and professional speakers. And today I use what I learned in class in my everyday work. On top of that, I met amazing people. I learned when we talked about our apprenticeships, when we worked late on our group projects, when we discovered Shanghai, when we had awesome parties all together…During all of these experiences, my friends and I developed a strong group spirit, and this will allow us to make the MIB alumni network more powerful."

Josselin, BearingPoint, MIB9

MIB is all about sharing. We share our knowledge and the power to move forward. It becomes more of a close family, where the joy of one makes the joy of all. This is the MIB genuine spirit. The MIB program is remarkably set to train students in a transversal way. It offers cross-functionality in an international framework, in partnership with many well-known multi-national companies.
